Collision Occurs Soon After Submarine Starts for

THE ENTIRE CREW PERISHES

Only One Aboard the T. A. Scott,
Jr., Who Is Saved; He Grasp Life
Preserver Thrown from the U-Boat.

By Associated Press.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 17.—Five lives were lost when the German submarine Deutschland, which left port early today for Bremen, rammed and sent to the bottom with its crew of five the tug T. A. Scott, Jr., one of its two convoys. The Deutschland returned to port. The collision occurred about a mile inside the Race and, according to a member of the Deutschland's crew, came "all in a minute." The tug, he said, got unexpectedly in front of the Deutschland, the distance being so slight between them that the submarine had no chance of avoiding the accident. Her nose struck the tug near the stern, lifting it well out of the water and sending the Scott's nose under. Almost immediately afterward the hulls on the tug exploded and the vessel sank with all on board. Captain Fred Hirsch of the interned German steamer Necktar, who was on the tug, grasped a life preserver and was thrown out to him by the Deutschland and was taken on board the vessel, by which he was brought back to New London.

The Deutschland was not seriously damaged. It was stated that it would be ready to sail in a few days when repairs were made. Several of the bow plates were bent and the rivets loosened, but the interior of the submarine was not damaged. The repairs will be made by members of the crew. Vice President G. H. Wilson of the Eastern Forwarding Company, American agent for the undersea line said today that a statement would be issued by the company probably tonight as soon as it was in possession of full information. He added:

"The sinking of the crew of the Tug T. A. Scott, Jr. is a much regretted occurrence and none feels it more keenly than the officials of the Forwarding company and the officers and men of the Deutschland. That it was unavoidable goes without saying."

NO ATTACK ON U-BOAT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Official reports from the collector at New London add nothing to unofficial reports of the Deutschland's mishap and contain nothing whatever to substantiate a published report that a hostile motor launch attempted to ram the submarine.

Secretary Daniels has called for a navy report from Rear Admiral Grant in charge of the American submarine flotilla.

The German embassy regarded the accident as being especially deplorable because material aboard the Deutschland is urgently needed in Germany and the official mail aboard the vessel is an accumulation of three months. Some of the mail the embassy desires to reach Berlin at the earliest possible moment.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, made inquiries regarding the identity of the victims of the disaster.

BIG JOLLIFICATION

Bullskin Township and the South Side Savages Save
the Procession.

STERLING AND MCGINNIS HEROES

They Get Lots of Publicity, But There Is Not Much Said About Mr.
Wilson's Red Fire Supply Is Limited,
and Squire Bixler Doesn't March.

After seeing the Democratic parade last night the question naturally arises: What did they do with Squire Bixler's $1,600? A parade about 10 times as good as the one U. J. Harrison and his 100 vice presidents put on last night could have been staged for $150 and there would have been money left for a treat for the little folks.

It was some parade. President-elect Woodrow Wilson would have enjoyed it, but Congressman-elect Bruce P. Sterling, who, out of courtesy had to attend, seemed bored.

F. O. Goodwin, grand marshal, led the procession on horseback. His aides were Ralph Cuthbertson, Jr., W. P. Schenck and Walter Rogers, also mounted.

Three bands furnished music, a couple of dozen tin horns made noise and another couple of hundred sticks of red fire were set off to add color to the occasion. The marchers were few and the automobiles fewer. City Clerk A. O. Bixler, supervisor of the exchange, who says he collected $1,600, did not participate. He was seen returning to his home from the West Side as the procession was moving majestically across the bridge, apparently having gone over to let those on the other side of the Jordan know that "she was coming."

The South Side Savages brought up the rear. Marching in military order with "Eun" Bixler in command they had a parade all their own. Without the three bands, the Savages and two wagons from Bullskin township, there wouldn't have been a parade.

The banners consisted principally of boasts for Postmaster W. D. McCormick and The News and for the Courier. "Four more years of the best postmaster Connellsville ever had," read one of the banners, which was not written by Street Commissioner William McCormick. There were also some complimentary allusions about Congressman-elect Bruce P. Sterling. President Wilson got only passing mention.

The mayor's ward was right and so was Bill McCormick's, read a banner. This attracted much comment inasmuch as Hughes carried the mayor's ward by 20 votes and Sterling by one.

Rev. J. L. Proffitt, an ardent Wilson booster, occupied a position of prominence in one of the automobiles.

Outside of the parade itself, the best example of Democratic humor was a circular listing the members of the crew that will take the trip up Salt River. Owing to the high cost of paper and ink the list of the crew is said to have cut big holes in the $1,600 parade fund. The red fire is said to have been curtailed to reduce the general expense.

One member of the committee said today that the "red" celebration would be held in Uniontown on November 22. Last night's "jollification" he laughingly admitted, "was only a rehearsal. An effort will be made to raise $1,600 to defray the expense of printing, red fire, bands and tin horns."

Relatives Hope for Recovery Despite Serious Nature of Injuries; Ac-

F. C. Conaway of South Vine street, this city, was seriously injured just before noon yesterday at Allisons Mills, near Brownsville. Mr. Conaway, who is an employee of the Monongahela Railroad, was returning from work on a freight train and in some unknown manner slipped from the train and fell beneath the wheels.

His disappearance was not noticed for some time but as soon as his absence was discovered the train immediately backed up and found him endeavoring to stagger to his feet.

The injured man was at once removed to the Brownsville Hospital where his injuries were found to consist of severe bruises about the head and body and both arms were cut off above the elbows. His family in Connellsville were immediately notified and his wife has been constantly at his bedside ever since.

Reports from the hospital this morning were to the effect that he had rested very quietly during the night and that hopes are entertained for his recovery. At a late hour this morning he had not regained consciousness.

The extent of his injuries is not yet known and his condition yesterday was not such as to permit of a thorough examination. It was feared that he had been hurt internally but there has been since no confirmation of the first report.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe
to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea
and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home.
All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Veyell's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Veyell's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair
after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance
of abundance which is so attractive.
This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance.
It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

EXPECT TO RETREAT

German Build Defenses Far Behind
Present Front.

By Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 17.—According to information gleaned from several hundred refugees from the occupied regions of northern France, who have been passing through Holland, the Germans have prepared positions for behind their present front. They are,
it is said, reckoning more and more on the possibility of a retreat to the Belgian frontier. The positions near Mauberge and Hautmont are even more formidable than those up to Lille. The old forts are deserted, for, taking full account of the new methods of warfare, the Germans have constructed a network of trenches, and great earthen caverns made with the aid of reinforced concrete and iron.

News comes from northern France
as well as from Belgium of the increasing number of the population who are being put to work by the Germans. The normal industries have long been stopped, but some manufactories are veritable beehives of activity. This is the case, for instance, in the little suburb of Fives,
where French and Belgians are employed in the manufacture of ammunition.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.—Adv.

SULPHUR FERTILIZES

Ohio Chemist Makes Experiments Under Soils With Good Results.

Much interest has been aroused in coal fields of eastern Ohio by the announcement of J. W. Ames, chemist of the Ohio agricultural experiment station that sulphur will soon have to be applied to the soil in this state. Just as is done with fertilizer.
He claims that sulphur increases the crop production.

Water drained from the mines in that locality is heavy with sulphur.
At present no use is made of this water but plans are being discussed for the establishment of plants for the purposes of extracting the sulphur
to be used as fertilizer.

LARGE-BUYERS SAID TO BE MANEUVERING FOR LOWER SPOT FURNACE COKE PRICES

In Spite of Slight Easement Market Conditions are Stronger.

NOTHING NEW ON CONTRACTS

Consumers Are Indisposed to Negotiate and Producers Indisposed to Consider Offers; More Interest in Foundry Cokes at Break in Coal.

Special to The Weekly Courier. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—Underlying conditions in the coke market are stronger than ever, but the market for spot furnace coke has eased off 50 cents a ton since last report, the latest sales being at $7.00. Some sales were made Saturday at $7.25 and others at $7.00 early in the present week, the latter figure still obtaining. Consignee requirements are as heavy as ever, as all furnaces that can possibly operate are in blast and are pushing for maximum output. Reports are that production is being curtailed further by coke shortages and that considerable coke has been spotted by its being impossible to draw it in time.

There is a report in general circulation in the lower circles that some of the large steel interests that have been buyers of spot furnace coke at any price that would bring out the material, have put their heads together and reached the unanimous conclusion that they had been bidding the market up on themselves, hence an abstention from buying was decided to be a highly desirable move. It is also hinted that purposes are in mind other than temporary withdrawal from the market. The slight depression in the quotation for coke has been expected to be followed by further decline, but the buyers in question are without their additional supplies, as the turnover in spot coke has been very light the past few days. The outcome of the maneuvering is awaited with much interest. Most coke producers express the opinion that the decline is only temporary and that higher prices than ever will be developed shortly.

There is nothing new as to furnace coke on the market, but consumers still uncovered for first half are indisposed to negotiate, with such a high spot market, and producers are likewise indisposed to consider contracts. In nearly all instances they are already well sold up on contract. The spot market for coke has softened only a trifle since last report and thus is staying well above furnace coke, the latter's decline, just as it lagged behind in the previous advance. For best grades quotations at $5.50 are usually not been accepted, but two have been willing buying at $2.00. Practically all the foundry coke sold for spot shipment is in hopes the operators receiving scarce enough box cars to make shipment about their regular contracts.

Considerable interest is manifest by buyers in foundry coke on contract, and prices have advanced further in the week. The top notch price is $5.50, just as on a small contract for first half, or one of the best brands. There are ferings of various grades at somewhat lower prices. Occasionally a bid objects to paying prices asked for first half and asks for quotations on shorter period. In one instance the seller came back with a quotation of $1.00 for first quarter. The market is notable as follows:

Best furnace coke..... $7.00
Direct furnace coke..... $6.50
Foundry coke..... $5.50
Extra foundry..... $5.00
The Pittsburgh coal market has broken more than a dollar a ton since last report, the break starting with a better supply last Thursday, but continuing when the car supply grew over again by the railroads placing various embargoes and thus preventing shipment on contract to certain points, whereby prompt coal accumulated. Latest quotations for Pittsburgh district coke are $4.50 to $4.75, with occasional small offerings down to $4.25.

The pig iron market continues to be sensational advance without interruption. Since last report Bessemer and basic are up $2 a ton, malleable $1.00 and foundry $1. A seller makes only a very few sales, probably only one or two, at a given price and then advances a dollar a ton, usually obtaining the advanced price within a day or two. Fractions are no longer in evidence, except in the case of gray iron, which simply sells at a differential below foundry iron. There are signs of somewhat greater activity on the part of some sellers, now that prices are so high. The pig iron market has advanced more since the first of last month than it did in all its previous rise from the low point of early 1915. The market is now quotable at the following minimum prices, with some quotations are out at $1 to $2.50 higher:

Bessemer..... $10.00
Basic..... $12.00
Malleable..... $12.00
Gray iron..... $12.50
These prices are for Valley furnace, prices delivered Pittsburgh being higher by the 50-cent freight. The last sale of basic iron was 7,000 tons for first quarter at $25.00, Valley.

SOUTHERN COAL

Non-Belton sold at $4 to $5 per Ton at the mines.

Alabama coal to a limited extent being sold at $1 and $5 a ton at the mines for shipment to the Du Pont Company for its big plant at Hopewell, Va.

A view of proximity of the Hopewell plant to the coal mines of Virginia and West Virginia, this effort of the Du Pont Company to buy coal in Alabama for shipment to Virginia clearly indicates the conditions prevailing in the coal industry.

COKE TRADE SUMMARY

The increasing car shortage and interruptions to their distribution at coke plants are easily becoming the dominant factors in the coke trade. While there was a slightly better average in supply last week, permitting an increase of 9,000 tons to a total of 404,000 tons, the supply for the present week promises to be very much worse. Distribution yesterday was but 20% of the region's requirements. Production gained 13,000 tons, to a total of 421,000 tons, but the gain availed consumers nothing because it was stocked on the yards largely at furnace coke for lack of cars. Coal shipments from the coke region, declined 8,000 tons, but the combined tonnage of coal and coke on a coke basis, gained 5,000 tons to total of 646,000 tons. The spot furnace market remains stronger than ever although there has been an easing of 50 cents to $7.00 from the high point of last week. A rumor is current that the large buyers of coke prices will not come to the conclusion that they will no longer bid against each other and will abstain from buying. There is a hint that they have other purposes in mind than temporary withdrawal from the market.

CAR SHORTAGES AND EMBARGOES

Matters of Present Greatest Interest in the Iron and Steel Industry. A Very Menacing Situation.

Special to The Weekly Courier. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron and Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

The matter of transportation has become the center of interest in the iron and steel industry. Car shortages have increased at the steel mills and several important embargoes have been placed. The New York, New Haven & Hartford has placed an embargo at all transfer points on its lines. Most of the roads have embargoed shipments east for export, unless by permit. The Pennsylvania railroad has embargoed shipments arising on its lines for transfer to the Pennsylvania Company, except coke and perishable goods, and various other embargoes have been placed. The embargoes are taken to disclose a very menacing situation, but there is a possibility that, profiting by the bad experience of a year ago, the railroads are this time placing their embargoes at a time when they will really do good and relieve the situation. In some quarters predictions are made that the great blockade of 1915-16 is going to be repeated this winter. The railroads 14 years ago undertook to apologize for that blockade by explaining that it was the first of its class in the history of American railroading. At many plants there are serious fears that lack of transportation facilities will shortly operate to slow down production.

The buying pressure in steel products continues but the mills are more and more reserved about selling, and the turnover is not large. The Steel Corporation's increase of $25,516 tons in unfilled obligations in October is more than accounted for by the excess of sales over shipments by the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company and National Tube Company. The other subsidiaries booked considerably less than they shipped.

Pig iron continues its flight, with an average advance of more than $1 a ton in the week. The advance from October 1st to date equals the entire advance that had previously occurred from the low point of early last year. Connellsville furnace coke for spot shipment eased 50 cents to $7.00, perhaps by reason of buyers adopting definitely a policy of refusing to pay fancy prices.

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind For Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back and I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would have suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been cured from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. C. C. McCord, 3532 Hortville Street, Phila., Pa.

GETS BIG AWARD

Pennsy Must Pay Coal Company for Discrimination in Cuts.

Special to The Courier. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—After a four days' trial a jury in the United States Circuit Court today ordered the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to comply with an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission awarding the Clark Brothers Coal Mining Company $21,217.96 damages for alleged coal car discrimination.

While the jury allowed the principal of the award it gave no interest, which was also ruled for from June 25, 1917. This is the third time in little more than a month that federal juries have entered awards against the Pennsylvania railroad.

Julius for Short-Weights. The general manager and superintendent of the Western Fuel Company at San Francisco have been sentenced to the penitentiary 18 months for defrauding the government by false weighing of imported coal.

ROAD ABANDONED.

No Chance That the P. W. & S. Railway Will Ever Resume.

Workmen are engaged in tearing up the rails at the Ligonier end of the Pittsburgh, Westmoreland & Somerset railroad which, some time ago suspended operations. All hope that the mountain line might eventually be rehabilitated now seems lost.

The line extended from Ligonier to Somerset and connected residents in that section with the Pennsylvania railroad at Latrobe.

Strikers are Hestrained. SOMERSET, Nov. 17.—By agreement of both sides Judge Ruppel filed a decree making permanent the injunction recently granted restraining strikers in the Hooversville mining region from calling non-union men "scabs" and other opprobrious names, and from parading for the purpose of intimidating men at work for the companies operating there.

THE MISUSE OF CARS AND PIRACY OF THEM CAUSE OF SHORTAGE

Some of the Facts Revealed
By Investigations
By I. C. C.

APPEALS TO POWER OF COURTS

Suggested as a Means of Enforcing
The Return of Cars to the Hands by Which They are Owned; Tank-Line
Case May Provide Effective Solution.

At the investigation into the car shortage, begun last week at Louisville, Ky., by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the conclusion of opinion by witnesses and others was that an increased demand charge would assist materially in relieving the situation, and that there was an abnormal use of cars, retention of them at terminals on account of congestion or where they are being utilized as warehouses, and inefficiency of traffic departments of railroads were variously assigned as contributing causes of the shortage. The fact that prices are high and that there is a rush to get commodities on the market while buyers are convinced that prices will go still higher, are being gladly, was also cited as one reason for the heavy demands on the car equipment.

All kinds of cars were considered in the hearing, although the greatest amount of attention was paid to coal cars. There were numerous representatives of large industrial concerns and organizations of manufacturers in the Middle West present, who stated that they were on the verge of enforced suspension on account of lack of coal, and that they must be taken care of or disaster would result. Representatives of coal-carrying roads, especially the Louisville & Nashville and the Illinois Central, which have embargoed in effect, called attention to the fact that prices of the cars of Southern railroads, in many cases by the very roads which directly serve the industries represented, was largely responsible for the condition complained of.

Tabulated statements was presented showing that the railroads of the North and East have from 96% to 99% of cars on their lines, based upon the number of cars owned, while roads in the South had but from 33% to 100% on their lines. This was presented to substantiate the claim of "piracy" of cars by the northern roads.

Representatives from Chicago stated that coal dealers there were shortly to bring mandamus proceedings seeking to compel northern railroads to return misused cars to coal carrying railroads in order that they could get the supplies they must have, else Chicago will freeze this winter.

The coal operators of the Kanawha Valley, W. Va., have made a demand on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad company that that railroad obtain mandatory injunctions against other railroads which are using Chesapeake & Ohio cars on their own line to transport the traffic which they handle. When the coal operators of the Kanawha Valley met the railroad officials in Cincinnati recently the excuse for the lack of cars given was that the railroad carriers in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois, when they got possession of a Chesapeake & Ohio car, kept it on their own lines.

Reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission by special agents show that coal cars are being used in transport grain, ammunition and all kinds of products to the Atlantic seaboard for shipment to Europe. The open gondolas are used by placing tarpaulin over the cars, and in many cases these cars are held as long as a month in the terminals in New York.

Such use of cars for storage and the employment of coal cars for other purposes paying higher freight rates are held responsible for the shortage of coal. Reports at the Geological Survey are to the effect that the supply at the mines is ample and huge banks of coal are piled up at all the hard and soft coal mines awaiting cars.

In the case of the Panama Railroad, the Interstate Commerce Commission, decided it had the power to compel railroads to furnish equipment where it is needed. The Pennsylvania Railroad appealed this case and the commission's decree was reversed by the lower United States Court.

The case is now before the Supreme Court and is known as the "tank line" case. If the highest court decides in favor of the commission the railroads will be compelled to withdraw coal cars now used to transport other products to tide over and place them into the coal service. But unless the commission is upheld by the Supreme Court in its decision, the tank line case will be powerless to force the railroads to abandon their ammunition and war baby traffic to aid the American public to get coal.

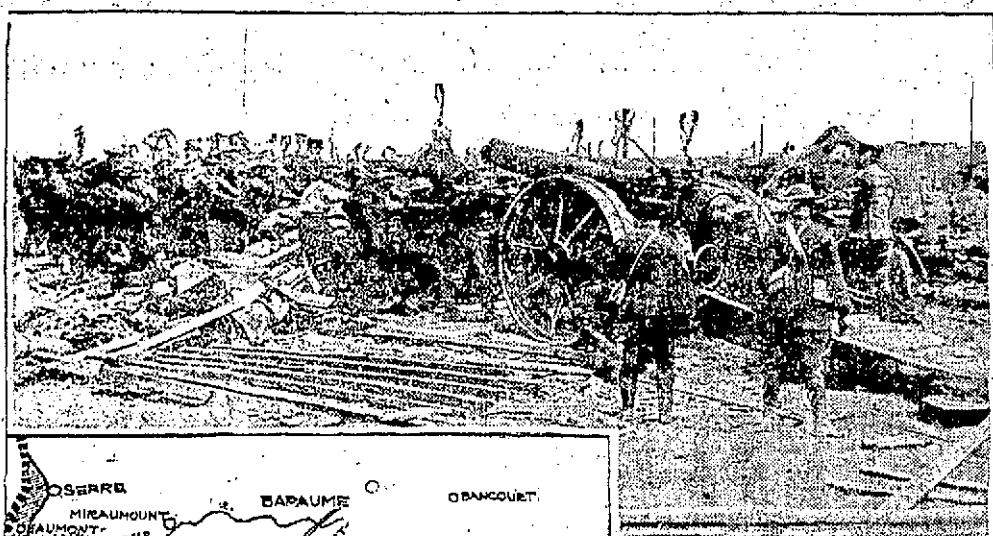

The Department of Justice instructed the United States district attorneys in different cities to make an investigation to determine whether there was an infraction of the Sherman act by coal companies. Reports received, however, do not indicate that any combination exists. They go to show that the prices have been raised through a scarcity and dealers are holding their small supply to protect their regular customers.

Experts figure that eighty per cent of the coal mined is now going to users under contract, and the other twenty per cent is being buffered upward by the competition of the open market.

British in France Make an Attack on Parts of Line That Were Long Inactive

The map reproduced herewith shows the northern part of the Somme front in France, with the gains north and south of the Ancre reported by London dispatches. The British have taken St. Pierre Divion and Beaumont-Hamel and are fighting for Dancourt and Serre.

The broken line is the allied front on July 1, when the offensive started. The back line is their front now, approximately. The shaded portion shows gains.

The photograph shows a group of British soldiers bringing up one of the larger field pieces after a recent advance on the Somme front.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED, LOOK AT TONGUE

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious
Give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they surely love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company.—Adv.

COAL DIVERTED AT BIG PROFIT, L. & N. CHARGE

Traffic Attorney Declares Operators Broke Their Contracts for Gain.

COMMISSION SEEKS EVIDENCE

Railroads Warned They Must Comply
With Agreement to Return Empty; Higher Freight Rate Asked for Sole Purpose of Service Improvements.

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 17.—Charges made yesterday that coal operators are breaking contracts promise to result in a widening of the scope of the investigation the Interstate Commerce Commission is making into the exchange and return of freight cars by the railroads of the country. The charge was made by counsel for the Louisville & Nashville railroad that mines had refused to load cars furnished for the specific purpose of enabling them to meet contract requirements.

Three cars, it was said, had been furnished to a mine for loading coal for a public utility company of Hamilton, O. The operator, counsel declared, had refused to accept these cars for loading to that destination, although his was one of the two mines under contract to furnish the utility company with its fuel.

Asked by Commissioner C. C. McChord of the Interstate Commerce Commission, presiding at the hearings, the reason for this refusal, counsel for the Louisville & Nashville answered that no reason was known, but that it was "believed the operator wished to take advantage of the high prices being offered on the open market."

Commissioner McChord demanded all the records available to the Louisville & Nashville showing where any operator had failed to fill his contracts when furnished with a supply of cars for that purpose.

An increase in freight rates, the proceeds to be used solely for improvements of a character to be designated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, was advocated by Frank H. Alfred, general manager of the Pere Marquette, as a means of preventing a recurrence at a later date of present car shortage conditions.

SMALL OPERATORS ARE HARD HIT

By the Compensation Law; Unable to Meet the Costs of Insurance.

Many Have Closed Mines.

The extension of the small operator employing less than 10 miners, as a result of the workmen's compensation law, is a prediction on which local coal men, both large and small, agree says the Johnstown Democrat. Before the compensation law went into effect the mines operating less than 10 men were not subject to inspection by the state mine inspectors and did not have to meet the specifications laid down by the state mining code relative to the conditions in mines as to accident prevention. But now all operators, small and large alike, are required to protect their employees under the compensation law.

In order to obtain the insurance, either from the state or from private corporations, they have to meet the same requirements as do the large mining concerns. That is, they must overhaul and equip their mines in such manner as to reduce the danger of accidents or pay a much higher rate of insurance. They must submit to inspections by representatives of the state, or whatever companies they have placed their insurance with.

Several of the small concerns in and around Johnstown already have closed their mines, finding it impossible to continue paying the insurance and work their mines with profit to themselves. Another thing that makes it hard for the mine owners who employ from two to nine men is the fact that he cannot depend upon his men to stay with him. It has been a frequent occurrence that a small mine owner, having once insured his few employees, wakes up some morning to find them all gone. In most such cases the proprietor has suspended operations.

One small operator suggested a way in which the mine owner can produce coal without subjecting himself to the requirements of the compensation law. Any mine owner can dig coal in his own mine without getting compensation insurance for himself. Also any person having a direct interest in the production of coal can work in the mine without paying insurance for himself. Consequently the mine owner and as many other men as he sees fit can execute a lease on the mine or a section of the mine and the lessee may dig coal and sell it. This, it is claimed, is a method by which compensation can be avoided without violating the law.

CREW CUT-OFFS

Tending to Make Traffic Congestion Worse Instead of Better.

At Derry and every other terminals on the Pennsylvania railroad crews are being cut off every day, on account of being out sixteen hours. These cut-offs are using up the available extra men, who have to relieve the cut-off crews, who must, according to law, be given an eight hour rest.

The cut-offs tend only to tie up the railroad more than ever. The prevailing congestion of traffic is without precedent, and every crew cut off ties up that train for the time being. The yards everywhere are filled with cut-off trains and in addition to the freight piled up everywhere, makes the operation of the freight business almost a nightmare to the officials and operating department.

LIFE OF A GAS WELL

Range From One to 12 Years With the Average About 4 1/2 Years.

The drilling of wells is only one of the big items of expense of a gas company. The acquisition of and carrying undeveloped territory is perhaps the largest item, and one which is not given much consideration by the consumers, who very seldom stop to think what it costs, or what obstacles the management has to overcome in order to acquire a good supply of gas each year.

In some quarters the idea prevails that a gas well lasts forever, and that it is not necessary to carry much undeveloped territory; but it is far from the truth. The average life of an Ohio gas well is four years and six months, which has been proven by taking the records of almost 2,000 wells and ascertaining how many have been abandoned. Some wells only last a year others 11 or 12 years.

THE CAR SHORTAGE AND ITS POSSIBLE EFFECTS ON STEEL

It Prolonged for 30 Days
Production Will Be Curtailed.

THE ONLY RELIEF IN SIGHT

In the Closing of the Year,
Which Will Release Cars to the Street, A Serious Railroad Blockade in Sight Before End of the Year.

The situation as to freight movement is threatening on all hands, says
The American Metal Market. Coal carrs have been so scarce that many factories have been forced to curtail production, while coke production has been almost entirely curtailed by general car scarcity. Last week several of the large steel mills experienced the greatest scarcity of cars for shipping their products that they have known for years. In the case of industrial products a shortage of say 50% prolonged for ten days would back up against mills to such an extent as to curtail production.

The only relief in sight as to the curtailment is in the closing of the year and the release of cars now in condition for service and in the pressure for getting grain being lightened.

On the other hand there are menaces. Bad weather will come soon, and the first cold snap always freezes up the railroads more or less. The outstanding process occupies a short time when it finds the road in good shape, but at a time like this any temporary interruption to traffic from new conditions may produce confusion
which it will take a long time to unravel. Cold weather also means multiple payers, as there are locomotives
in such condition that they will run when the weather is good, as it has been lately, but will not completely cut out in bad weather. In general the motive power has been going down and there has been no time for repairs.

An important shipped interviewed
in the last few days representatives of two of the largest roads serving the iron and steel industry, as in prospect for freight movement this winter, and after a thorough canvass of the situation representatives of both roads admitted that there was a prospect of their capacity being decreased by as much as 10% in the winter, owing to their not being enough cars. Incomplices being short in number and in good condition, and winter weather generally.

The chances seem to be, therefore,
that there will be a serious railroad
blockade before the end of the year.
Without adequate transportation for raw material, partly finished and finished product, the iron and steel industry cannot operate to best advantage. Everything has been turned up to secure the present very heavy tonnage output. October showing, with most producers the heaviest tonnage in their history. Any curtailment will be serious, and curtailments at intermediate points will be carried on to the finished product, there being no slack at any point in the chain.
Any interruption in coke deliveries will slow down blast furnaces, as they have no coke reserves, and any decrease in pig iron receipts at steel works will slow down steel production,
as the steel works cannot make no
pig iron stock.

NO DISTRESS AROUND DUBLIN

Lord Mayor Says That Conditions Are Better Than Before the Rebellion.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 17.—The Dublin correspondent of The Associated Press has interviewed the Right Honorable James Gallagher, Lord Mayor of Dublin, in reference to the statements which have been made regarding a supposed exceptional state of distress in the city due to the April rebellion, and its suppression.
The Lord Mayor said: "We are absolutely better off this year than last year, notwithstanding the rebellion.
There is, as far as I can see, no exceptional distress at all. There is, on the contrary, a good deal of money con-ing into the city for separation allowances for the dependents of the men
most of them of the working classes, who joined the army." Information obtained from various traders in the city enable me to say that trade is as good if not better than it was twelve months ago. Moreover, employment has been added to owing to the amount of maintenance work done in the city. We have five or six factories each employing from one to six hundred hands. Women are earning very good wages, and Dublin women have proved very adaptable in shell making. The results is that the government is able to turn out shells in Dublin and to Ireland
generally cheaper than it can do it in England.

"The effect of the rebellion," said
the Lord Mayor, "was only temporary.
A certain number of people were thrown out of employment by the destruction of the premises in which they worked, but that temporary need was promptly met. I got up a fresh fund which amounted to about five or six thousand pounds, and the local committee which had been working for the Prince of Wales fund in relief of war distress gave me permission to spend from their resources something like 2,000 pounds in addition. We had the advantage in distributing these funds
to the necessities of all the machinery
used by the local relief committee.
The need was only temporary, most of the people who were not employed at that time have got new employment either from their old or new employers. Some went to England and secured employment in the munitions factories."

"The authorities of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, who have closer touch with the poor in the city of Dublin
than any other organization, tell me that the number of cases on their books in the city is exactly the same today as it was at the beginning of October last year."

CAR BUILDING

Statistics Showing the Growth in the Number and Tonnage of New Cars.
During the long period of ten years
extending from July 1, 1908, to June 30, 1915, when the railroads of the United States were put to it to maintain operation, only 229,000 freight cars were added to the number already in service, which was 206,517 less than the increase during the five-year period immediately preceding.
The increase in tonnage capacity during the seven years in question, moreover, was only 20,318,787 tons, which was 4,814,697 tons less than during the five-year period referred to. In the first 10 months of the current calendar year, orders were placed for 80,222 cars, compared with 67,781 for the corresponding period of 1915 and for the week ended Saturday, November 4, the orders aggregated 16,943.

The number of cars now being contracted for according to criterion, however, of the railway work, which is the existing frame construction, can be allayed since not only will it be impossible for the builders to fill orders already on their books for months to come, but the trouble itself due wholly to car shortage, but to inadequacy of transportation facilities in general, including motive power and terminals.

Mrs. Gerry, Famous Beauty,
Will Join "Senatorial Set."

MRS. PETER GOLET GERRY

The Rhode Island senatorial Democrat, ex-congressman, society man, polite player and coaching whip, conspicuously alike in New York and Newport;
but, in addition to all this, an able lawyer, a scientist and a philanthropist especially dear to the children of Providence, R. I., whom he entertains yearly on a midsummer picnic and a Christmas dinner. Mr. Gerry's election, which retired Henry F. Lipitt, the Republican senator, from public life, will send into the senate a man of only thirty-nine, who, though he may be known to many as a "whip"
and a sportsman, is known to as many more as a serious, capable student of politics and economics and as a friend of the workman.

Mr. Gerry is one of the few men in society who have taken an interest in politics, and his friends declare that his interest was inspired by his wife, who was formerly a resident of Washington, D. C., and prominent in society there. She will be without doubt one of the leaders of the "senatorial set."

She was Miss Mathilde P. Townsend, and was regarded by artists as one of the most beautiful women in America.
She has been painted by Sargent and Flanagan, and she has also furnished inspiration for many ideal characterizations of the American girl. Before her marriage to Mr. Gerry, in 1910 her engagement was frequently rumored, and a nobleman who was a most persistent suitor was the Duke of Alba, a Spanish grandee. But she always gave her friends to understand that she would never marry any one but an American.

PITT MACHINE'S STRENGTH SHOWN IN THE W. J. GAME

Scores Easy Win, Though Soppitt and Hastings are Out of Game.

WARNER IS ALWAYS PREPARED

Has Fine Array of Subs; Panthers Well Drilled in Art of Intercepting Forward Passes; Carnegie Tech Will Fight Hard in Saturday's Contest.

Special to The Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—The inherent power of the University of Pittsburgh's gridiron squad and the wonderful strength of Glenn Warner's coaching system were demonstrated last Saturday to the huge crowd which attended the local gridiron classic, the W. J. game. With Soppitt, Hastings and Warner out of the game permanently, the Panthers went on the field for this all-important contest lacking also the services of Hastings, considered the peer of any backfield in the country, and played a game universally characterized as the greatest in the history of the city. Gougher filled Hastings position as Hastings would have filled it. Sies did everything that Soppitt could have, and these two heroes of last year's W. J. game were hardly missed. And the other substitutes who got into the game after the start did just as well, without exception, as the regulars. Pop Warner is always ready.

In another respect, however, the veracity of the great coach was even more manifest. Pitted against a team considered the greatest forward passing aggregation in the country, perhaps of all time, a team which had gained over 250 yards in the first half against Yale, completing 27 successful passes and which had run up huge scores against all other opponents by this method, Warner so drilled his men that the Red and Black passed were almost useless; out of 11 attempts but 3 were completed, being intercepted, and W. J.'s net gain by the aerial route was 37 yards, for several of these completed the runner was thrown for a loss. And, to the astonishment of the critics, Warner's men uncovered a passing game of their own which for variety and skill outclassed the best their rivals could offer. Pitt attempted more than 30 forward flings, and completed 26 of them for a gain of 226 yards. While W. J. relied exclusively upon McClellan's skill for its passing, no less than 1 of the Panther backs handled this end of the play, and the Washingtonians were baffled by the remarkable assortment of formations from which the pass was thrown. Time and again the triple pass and delayed double pass succeeded, and instead of playing the conservative running game which all had predicted, Warner's men showed the most complete and varied attack local centers have ever witnessed.

W. J.'s passes failed because in nearly every instance the Pitt linemen, notably ends Herron and Carlson, came in on McClellan so fast he could not get the ball even accurately. When the pass was completed, in almost every case there was a Pitt man on hand to hurl the receiver back, reducing the distance of his gain. Late in the game W. J. entirely abandoned their favorite form of attack, finding it utterly ineffective. In every respect the line play of the Pitt team was conspicuous; not once did a Pitt back have to hurry his throw or kick, and not once was a Panther runner stopped back of the line. W. J. four times lost the ball on downs.

Pitt gained by carrying the ball 652 yards, their opponents 163; 176 yards of the Pitt total came on plunging through the line, in which McFarland starred. DeHart, the individual star of this and almost all preceding games this season, alone carried the oval exactly 100 yards farther than the entire Wash-Jeff team. He also did much of the forward passing. Pitt gained over 150 yards in each quarter, and scored a touchdown in every period. They made 25 first downs against 6.

DeHart's wonderful generalship and open field running made him the star of this spectacular game, but close behind him stood Carlson and Herron, the ends, who added to their glorious reputation by another great exhibition. Carlson played the best game of his life, and Herron equalled him in effectiveness. Thornhill, as always, easily outplayed his opponents, made many tackles in the open field, and was prominent throughout the game. Of the backs, Morrow, played with a strained ankle which was injured three times during the game, showing wonderful grit and strength, and his work on interference was unexcelled. Sutherland was another of the linemen whose work won especial recognition.

Saturday's game with Carnegie Tech is expected to prove one of the best of the year; the Plaid's great showing against Yale and Cornell and easy victories over all other rivals indicate the truth of their contention that their team is 50% stronger than any of its predecessors. While Pitt is confident of victory, a tight game is expected, no the rivalry for local honors is intense, and a low score is generally predicted. Last year the Panthers won 28-0; but such a large tally is hardly to be expected this season, as Steffen's men are especially groomed for this game and will make a furious fight of it. If Warner's team can come through this game and the Thanksgiving Day affair with credit, it will be hard to convince local critics that Pitt has not a just claim on the national championship. No team save Navy has so far scored against the Panthers, who have lost but one game in three years, and that by a 13-10 score in 1914.

THE RAILROAD INVESTIGATION

Beginning Nov. 20th Will Deal with Many Questions of Vital Importance in the Management.

The Congressional investigation of the railroads, as a result of President Wilson's message of last December, pointing out that there was reason to fear the railroads would not be able to maintain their credit and conduct transportation successfully, will begin in Washington on November 20th. The chief questions involved are the powers and limitations of the Interstate Commerce Commission as now constituted, the question of state and Federal regulation, national incorporation of companies and the regulation of stock issues.

The attitude of the railroads on the investigation has recently been stated by Frank Traubert, chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway and also chairman of the Railways' Executive Advisory Committee.

"Under the joint resolution by Congress," he said, "a joint committee composed of five members of the Senate and five members of the House is about to make a thorough investigation of the entire subject of railroad regulation. It is the hope of the railroads that out of this investigation will come a much needed plan for co-ordinating and simplifying our system of transportation regulation."

"Probably a hundred million dollars is going over the dam every year as a result of the lack of co-ordination and our present methods of handling this important problem and our present system of conflicting regulation by the Federal government and by the several states. Transportation cannot be regulated by state lines."

At the hearing before the committee, Mr. Traubert said the railroads would advocate a centralization of railroad regulations, which, in the opinion of the railroads, can best be accomplished by a Federal incorporation of interstate roads. They will also advocate a reorganization of the Interstate Commission along regional lines, with subordinate district commissions or branches, in order that local conditions may receive due consideration, somewhat along the lines of the organization of the Federal Reserve System. They also feel that the regulation of the issuance of railroad securities should be placed in the hands of the Federal government but that it should not be divided between the Federal government and the states. Nineteen states are now regulating the issuance of securities.

WEAK AND TIRED WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.

Connellsville women who are weak, run-down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says:

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger, and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of most successful tonics, bentonite, cod liver oil, iron and manganese, and glycerophosphates, in a mild tonic wine.

We want to say to every weak, run-down, overworked woman in Connellsville that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell.

The Reason for Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets

The reason for the popularity of these wonderful reducing corsets lies in the famous Rengo Belt feature. In this scientific and now famous abdominal support, which adds a hundred fold to the ability of the garment to resist breaking-down strain; is the secret of perfect style. The lines of current fashion, tailored by the designer, remain constant because there is provided strength to support the figure and there is no stretch.

"Elastic" Webbing, supplied in some of the models, will give added freedom to active women.

These corsets are made to stand hard wear; the materials are strong and the tailoring is accurate. The double watch-spring binding is very durable and guaranteed not to rust.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jaid Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act and feel fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weaknesses.

Jaid Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

OLD-TIME GOLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Brand Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburg Brand Tea," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Adv.

FREIGHT RATES BLAMED

Retailers Say They Cause the High Cost of Coal.

Special to The Courier.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The state commission appointed by Governor Brumbaugh to investigate the causes for the high cost of anthracite coal adjourned here yesterday after hearing testimony from representatives of many of the largest producers and distributors of coal in Pennsylvania.

Wellington M. Bartlett of Reading, who represented the Pennsylvania Retail Coal Merchants' Association, declared that if there was any unreasonable increase in the coal prices it was probably due to the high freight rates.

Higher wages, scarcity of labor, abnormal cost of supplies and labor strife were explained by Mr. Sexton as the principal factors in preventing a profit.

"We will pay no dividends this year," he said. "We paid none in 1915. In 1913 we declared a 3 1/2 per cent dividend and the year before one of 4 per cent."
